

Hickory Hill Gardens Singing Canaries

Hickory Hill Gardens is also the home of fine singing canaries. We are breeding and raising several types:

- 1) Hickory Hill Gardens Canaries in yellow, variegated, color bred red factor, dominate white, and recessive white – These sing open throated cheerful middle & upper range tours with a variety of rolls, trills, etc. They are enthusiastic strong moderately loud singers.
- 2) Waterslager Singers in yellow – These unique singers produce middle to lower range sounds and many of the notes sound watery or bubbly. Their song is rich, very variable, & strong, but not generally as loud as the Hickory Hill Gardens singers.
- 3) Spanish Timbrado singers – These will be available in the fall of 2012. This strain was just developed in the 1940's. They are only several generations from the original wild canary. They are middle and upper range singers with gorgeous tones, variable timbers, brilliant notes, and many variations. These are a rich greenish color, cinnamon, and soon to come in yellow and variegated.
